

As a Regional Property Manager, Brian oversees the day to day operations of commercial properties. He coordinates maintenance, improvement, and everyday activities for office buildings, retail centers, and industrial use properties.

Brian has been managing Commercial Properties since February of 2018, after a year of managing a SUHRCO Residential community in downtown Bellevue. He also has experience in the landscaping industry working as a WSDA commercial applicator and horticulturalist. This experience allows Brian to notice what makes a property appealing and where to make modifications when needed.

Brian was raised in the greater Seattle area and has lived here most of his life. He attended Green River Community College, gaining a degree in aviation technology. After pivoting away from aviation he takes the skills learned in working under pressure situations like air traffic control.

In his off-time, Brian enjoys staying active. He does so through playing sports, camping, hiking, and traveling. No matter where he goes, his heart belongs on the eastside of the state as a lifelong season ticket holder for the Washington State Cougars. Those who know Brian understand how reliable, dedicated, caring, and hard-working he is in all areas of life.
